THE NEW-YORK TRIBUNE, 1859. THE NEW-YORK TRIBUNE, now more than THE NEW-YORK TRIBUNE, now more than eightsen years eld, which was the first journal in the world that appeared regularly on an imperial eight-pags sheet at so low a price as two cents, and which his strained the unparalleled aggregate of more than 20,000 subscriptions, respectfully solicits its share of patronage which the Metropolitan Press is beneziont to receive. It asks especially the patronage and active favor of REPUBLICANS—of those who hate all forms of oppression, and desire that every rational being shall be free to employ his faculties in such innocent manner as he shall deem best—of those who would extend Liberty and finit Slavery, but it further appeals likewise to all who look and labor for the return of National thrift, plenty, prosperity, through the Frotection of American Industry by wisely discriminating duties on Imports—all who favor National Progress through internal development and metioration rather than by external aggression and extension—all who would rather have the National resources devoted to the construction of a railroad to the Pacific than to the purchase or conquest of Mexico, Nicaragus or Cuba—all who would retreach radically our present inordinate Federal expending the money thas saved on works of benificence which will endure to bless our children—all who profoundly realize that "Right-Toursness exalted a nation," and that no real advantage can ever accure to any person or community from acquisitions or successes achieved by means which contravene the laws of Eternal Right. The free allotment of limited portions of employment of inadequate recompens—every scheme especial of employment of inadequate recompens—every scheme especial who distate the positions and ability in maintaining them. We appeal, then, to those who believe that an increased circulation of THE TRIBUNE would conduce to the political, intellectual and moral well-being of the Republic, to aid us in effecting such increase. As we employ no traveling solicitors of subscriptions, we ask our present patrons in every locality to speak to their neighbors and friends in our behalf, we shall gladly receive from any friend lists of those who would receive and read a specimen copy of one of our criticious, and shall be particularly grateful to those who may send us such names from post-offices at which we have now abscribers. Whatever additions may thus be made to our discussions and the paralleled by increased efforts and expenditures to make our issues more valuable and useful than they have hitherto been.
